

WOOD STILL LEADING IN NEW JERSEY RACE

Reports From East, As Well As West Charge Fraudulent Count Against Hiram

(By Associated Press.)
Newark, N. J., April 29.—With 53 districts missing, Gen. Wood today is leading Senator Hiram Johnson by 672 votes in the New Jersey presidential preference primary.

Widespread reports are that Senator Johnson's supporters would ask a recount because of alleged fraud in three counties which could not be confirmed. Reports of fraud came in last night and were given credence by Johnson's supporters, since they were preceded by reports from Minnesota that there had been "robberies" at the expense of Johnson, committed in several counties.

HIGHEST TOBACCO PRICE PAID HERE

Richmond Leads All Cities In This Particular—Immense Crop Reported

The highest average price paid for burley tobacco by any market in the Kentucky district, comprising forty-seven cities, was $46.45, paid at the Richmond tobacco market where more than eight million pounds were sold.

In round numbers, the statistics show that for the season closing on April 10th, there was a trifle more than sixty-three million pounds produced and sold in this state.

Maysville and Louisville were the leaders in point of quantity sold, twenty-one million pounds being reported at Maysville and nineteen million pounds at Louisville. Richmond was at the front with a little more than eight million pounds, a record-breaker it is claimed while the increase in the southern and eastern portions of the state show but a slight increase over the production of last year.

It is believed that with the unusual acreage contemplated for tobacco this year next season will be productive of some startling figures in this and other localities. With warm weather, the plants, it is said, which have been held back will soon reach a normal condition and relieve the growers of the anxiety which they have felt, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

ARCHITECT HERE PLANS DORMITORIES

Edward Webber, a Cincinnati architect, was in conference Thursday with President T. J. Coates, of the Normal School, regarding the plans for the two new dormitories to be constructed at the institution. These buildings which will be among the many improvements of this year, will add greatly to the importance and accommodation facilities at the school, and will represent an estimated cost of more than $150,000, this amount having been appropriated for them. The contract will doubtless be let within a short time with the view to getting the work under way as soon as possible. The completion will eliminate a great amount of worry upon the part of many of the students who have been experiencing difficulty in procuring places to stay.

COURT OF APPEALS REVERSES DECISION

Important Procedure Dealing With Assessment Controversy In Richmond

The court of Appeals on Tuesday reversed the Madison Circuit Court in the case of the city of Richmond vs. D. B. Shackelford holding that Shackelford must pay city taxes for the year 1918 upon his assessment as corrected by the Board of Supervisors. The Board had raised the lists of a great many taxpayers in the city for the year 1918, above the amounts at which they had been listed by the tax payers. Several citizens combined to resist payment of their tax on the increased assessment, claiming that by reason of certain irregularities in the appointment and qualification of the Board and their time meeting that they were not a legally constituted Board, and had no legal authority to add to the list of any taxpayer.

The original Board of tax supervisors who were appointed by the council for the year 1918, refused to meet and discharge their duties it is said and much trouble was experienced by the Council before they finally found a board, who would consent to discharge the duties of tax supervisors it is claimed. The Board, as finally selected did not meet until after the time set for their meeting by law, and after the taxes for that year were due July 1st. However, the Court of Appeals by its decision holds that these irregularities are not such as will invalidate the appointment and acts of the Board.

The case has been one of intense interest owing to the number of citizens involved and, has been hard fought throughout. The decision means that those who have either withheld their taxes or failed under protest, now lose out and must pay up.

The case was first heard before Hon. Stephen D. Parrish, sitting as special Judge by agreement, owing to the fact that Judge Shackelford was disqualified to try the case against his brother. Judge Parrish dismissed the city's petition, when the case was heard before him, and this opinion of the Appellate Court reverses that decision. Hon. A. R. Burnam represented Mr. Shackelford and City Attorney, Joe P. Chenault, represented the city.

Chief Justice Carroll delivered the opinion of the Appellate Court.

EMPLOYMENT MAN GETS NO RECRUITS

A large majority of the young men of the Richmond vicinity have a good opinion of their prospects here and a very fitting tribute to local conditions was paid Tuesday when a representative of a large machine company in a northern city spent some time here interviewing capable young men but left town without signing up a single one. He gave the flowery side of the proposition as he saw it, with mechanics making "big money", and that they would be given promotions every now and then and soon be in charge of a big number of men.

He did not state, however, that there was more or less turmoil at the present time in the ranks of the machinists. In Cincinnati, the men have already voted to go out on strike, in order to demand the recognition of the union and an advance in wages. This was not stated by the employment agent. Neither was it stated by him that there were rough roads ahead for the average man going in to a machine shop to learn the trade. He will be confronted with living conditions in the cities that will make his wages which may seem large when he gets them, to dwindle to naught when he has paid his bills. The season of riots and strikes is evidently fresh in the minds of the average young man here.

FOR TIDING OVER TOBACCO BUYERS

(By Associated Press.)
Louisville Ky., April 28.—A corporation with sufficient capital for loans to foreign tobacco buyers to tide them over until foreign exchange is more stabilized may be the outcome of plans considered by Kentucky and Tennessee bankers of the Dark Patch district.

W. T. Tandy and H. A. Eckles, bankers of Hopkinsville, Ky., have announced that they would call an immediate convention of financial interests of the two states to act upon the question of organizing such a corporation.

CARL HAGENBECK-WALLACE SHOW HERE

No Parade Owing To Late Arrival of Circus—No Evening Performance

Owing to the late arrival and the extensiveness of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus in Richmond Thursday morning, and the condition of the streets, it was found impossible to give a street parade and the management later decided to do away with the evening performance.

This, it was said, was the result of the small lot and the condition of same, since the entrance and detaining of the shows, together with the plans for the afternoon performance, rendered the conditions such as to make attendance at night very unpleasant. It was said that after the afternoon performance, the entrances to the lot and shows would be rendered almost impassable. The decision wrecked the hopes of thousands who had planned to attend the night performance.

Some of the chief features of the show itself given here are, in addition to the wonderful animal acts by the famous trained animals, marvelous feats by the world's greatest aerial artists, new comedy by the fifty clowns, the thrilling performance of the young lady on the "highest jumping horse in the world," who skims over 9-foot hurdles as gracefully as a swallow flits over a barn roof; the young lady who, balanced on a large globe, works it up a slender wire from ground to the top of the tent and return, and many others. Of the 200 acts, there is not one which is not distinctly characteristic of the Hagenbeck-Wallace aggregation.

As to the animals: There were enough wild animals for an independent zoo.

ACTRESS PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED

During the afternoon performance, one of the lady acrobats with Hagenbeck-Wallace show, through the giving way of a pulley, fell Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the top of the tent to the ground and was seriously perhaps fatally injured. The woman was engaged in aerial trapeze performance when the accident happened. Reports are that both legs were broken, and internal injuries sustained.

DISCUSS COUNTY BASEBALL LEAGUE

Owing to the fact that there are a number of excellent baseball teams stationed throughout the county, a Madison county baseball league is being discussed whereby the national sport may be enjoyed and in almost every locality, during the summer months. The promoters are talking baseball—not for the money end of it, but for the sport. There are a number of smaller towns which have good teams and many of the members are known to be taking the matter seriously. The intention would be to furnish the sport, for the sport, and not promote it for financial gains.

There would be, in case the league was formed, much territory to draw from, there being available teams at Waco, Irvine, Kirksville, College Hill, Valley View, and others.

The Waco high school baseball team started the season with a victory at the expense of the Irvine team, the score being 9 to 8. The contest was an interesting one and witnessed by a large number. The teams put up a pretty good article of ball for the first of the season and the return date will be played in the near future; it having been booked for next week, but necessarily postponed owing to the commencement exercises.

Batteries for the Waco team, Reeves and Brotherton; for the Irvine aggregation, Downer and Blackman. The Waco team piled up eight hits and the visiting team six, while the former team pleaded guilty to one error and the visitors three. There is considerable rivalry between the two teams, and there will be a series of games played during the season.

JUDGE COCHRAN PULLS NEW STRING

Warns Owners Of Bus Lines To Watch Nature Of Baggage Of Their Passengers

An important decision was made Wednesday in the United States court, Judge Cochran assessed a fine of $1 on Estill Wallace, of Irvine for the illegal transportation of liquor. Wallace, who operates a bus line in and near Irvine, is said to have hauled passengers who had whisky in their possession, and the charge against the owner of the line was the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor.

Mr. Wallace stated that he did not know the contents of sacks and other receptacles of his passengers. Judge Cochran heard the evidence as presented, which was to the effect that Wallace, upon various occasions, had hauled passengers with "suspicious" looking parcels. The nature of the suspicion was not detailed at length, however, the court held that it behooves the common carrier now days to have at least some knowledge of the baggage he was hauling, and therefore, a minimum fine was assessed. Wallace paid the fine. This is the first case of this character that has come up at the present term of court and is for the purpose of pulling a prohibitive string that has been hanging loose for some time so it is said in order to have the law complied within every sense of the word. There are a number of bus and jitney lines in this and other counties, and it is probable that there will be a change in the manner of some alleged whisky makers carrying their product.

Judge Cochran Busy Setting Cases At Issue

Owing to the fact that he wanted to set a number of cases at issue and prepare the docket for further consideration this term, Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the U. S. Court, Wednesday evening called an adjournment until Thursday afternoon. The matter of going over the record and disposing of a number of cases wherein pleas of guilty were made was also given attention Thursday. The regular routine will be in order, however, by Friday morning, when there will be a resumption of testimony.

RARE SPECIE OF OWL

KILLED NEAR THE CITY
What is said to be a monkey-faced owl, a very rare specie, was shot in the woods on the farm of Misses Emily Johnson, three miles west of the city Wednesday by "Uncle Jerry", an attendant on the place. RICHMOND BEING GIVEN RENOVATING

Clean-Up Week Being Observed Extensively And Work Reported As Complete

The work pertaining to clean-up week, which started Monday morning with vim in Richmond, continues and considerable improvement has been recorded in various parts of the city. For the first time, wagons were in evidence Wednesday, and the refuse which had been stored into receptacles by the busy housewife and cleaners of yards, lots, etc., were carted away. The work is said to be strictly in accordance with the orders of Mayor Evans, and is the most intensive yet seen here. Many lots that had not received attention for years were cleared, and the quantity of refuse indicates that the cleaning is pretty thorough throughout the city.

City street Commissioner Jas. H. Allman, who had charge of the transportation of the refuse, has also been busy looking after the wants of those who have been accumulating the refuse, and the interior of several buildings not occupied, have received a general renovating. The co-operation goes far towards making the work more successful. It is believed that by the end of the week there will have been a great transformation made and that the result of the work will be very much in evidence. The response to the call of Mayor Evans was general, according to reports, and there will be a clean city by the last of the week.

LOCAL HORSES FOR MEXICAN CAVALRY

Kentucky Has A Horse Especially Adapted To This Use Say Mexican Purchasers

There is an extraordinary demand by the Mexican government for cavalry horses and thousands of steeds are being purchased from Kentucky and adjoining states. For some time there has been a steady exodus of horses especially fitted for this service to the southern border, and there is a noticeable increase this week. Wednesday a small shipment passed through the city and as the railway conditions improve, there will be greater ones, since agents for the government to the country to the south are here, there and elsewhere, in an effort to buy up the horses.

Kentucky will furnish a big percent of these horses, since one of the representatives of the government stated while in Richmond Thursday that there was a peculiar style of horse to be found here that was especially desired by it being "small and wiry," as he expressed it.

Besides at Richmond there will be special efforts made at Lexington and other cities in this section of the state to buy up as many horses as possible for this service. The purchasers seem to be well supplied with money and they are not reluctant towards paying the price for what they want.

DESERVED TRIBUTE TO GILBERT GRINSTEAD

The Winchester Sun had the following about Gilbert Grinstead, who died Monday night which will be read with interest by his host of friends here:

Mr. Grinstead was born in Madison county and was a son of the late Rev. W. F. Grinstead, Methodist minister, and one of the strongest and most spiritual members of the Kentucky Conference. For the past eight years, Mr. Grinstead has been on the road as traveling salesman, being employed for three years by the Hodgkin Grocery Company of this city. The last three years he has represented the Vandercing Hardware Company of Lexington. He has been confined to his bed for the past year during which time every thing possible in medical aid was done to restore his health. While he realized that his illness was of a very serious nature he never gave up hopes of his final recovery. To even his family and closest friends who knew of his courage, his fight against such great odds was most unusual. His appreciation for the thoughtfulness of those who tried to help him against the enemy of us all was the proofs of his genuine and loving nature. He was prepared, willing and ready to meet his God. The only regret was the parting from his loved ones. He was a member of the Winchester Council of U. C. T. of this city, who put into practice the virtues of this order which he loved so dearly.

Besides his wife, who was formerly Miss Mossie Parrish, of Richmond, he is survived by one daughter, Miss Dorothy, his mother, who was formerly Miss Josie Baunstarck, six sisters, Mrs. J. H. Turner, Nicholasville, Mrs. J. W. Bryant, Mrs. Josie Walters and Miss Antonette Grinstead of Stanford, Mr. Will Bybee, of Ashland, Mrs. Randolph Harris Lon Caster, and one brother, Mr. Fletcher Grinstead, of Cincinnati, all of whom were at his bedside when the end came.

PROGRESS

is a wonderful word. Emerson said, "Progress is the activity of today and the assurance of tomorrow." Simple, yet it means much to this old world.

We have started. For several weeks we have been trying to set our house in order and we feel we have made some progress.

As we live we grow, and as we grow, we pause a moment and with that human faculty we all like so well, invite our friends and neighbors in and all rejoice together. We are not a great ways down the road as yet but since we are now on our way and since we know where we are going and have a definite goal to reach, we stop and announce to the world that we are moving.

OLIVER WENDILL HOLMES said: "I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving."

MAY 3 and 4

has been set apart and we invite you to come in if only for a moment and look us over. If you feel like it, bid us well, if only curiosity brings you we thank you for that, coming, we will have met and perchance we have more in common than you expected, and we may yet prove worthy of acquaintance and friendship and who knows but what it may so develop that some day WE will again gather to rejoice perhaps to welcome us as we complete a portion of our journey and then we will find you among our real friends.

We believe in Richmond and Madison County and our ability to render them real service will mark our progress

KANSAS INCREASE IN THE WHEAT CROP

Statistics, However, Show That Some Of It Was Raised At A Considerable Loss

(By Associated Press)

Topeka, April 28—Kansas farmers raised the record wheat crop of 1919—approximately 150,000,000 bushels which was marketed for $290,000,000—at a loss of 43 cents an acre, state average. This conclusion was reached by Secretary J. C. Mohler of the State Board of Agriculture, based on an analysis of the crop, from questionnaires of 2,040 wheat growers in all counties in the state.

Of the total acreage, 76 per cent shows a loss; 24 per cent gain. Only in the western part of the state was the grain raised at a profit. The secretary summarized his report as follows:

| Entire State | |
|-----------------|---------|
| Cost per acre | $25.20 |
| Return per acre | $24.77 |
| Loss per acre | .43 |

| Eastern Division | |
|------------------|---------|
| Cost per acre | $33.75 |
| Return per acre | $33.60 |
| Loss per acre | .15 |

| Central Division | |
|------------------|---------|
| Cost per acre | $24.60 |
| Return per acre | $23.08 |
| Loss per acre | 1.52 |

| Western Division | |
|------------------|---------|
| Cost per acre | $12.60 |
| Return per acre | $20.46 |
| Gain per acre | 1.86 |

The report states that if the return of the crop had been equal to the cost of production, "as calculated in this investigation," the average farmer would have received:

A moderate rate of interest (5 per cent) for the use of capital represented by land, buildings, and equipment for wheat.

The going wage of a farm hand for his labor; for the greater part of his time devoted to wheat $55 a month and board.

A compensation of $2.50 a day for his services as a manager for the time devoted to wheat, an average of ninety-seven days a year.

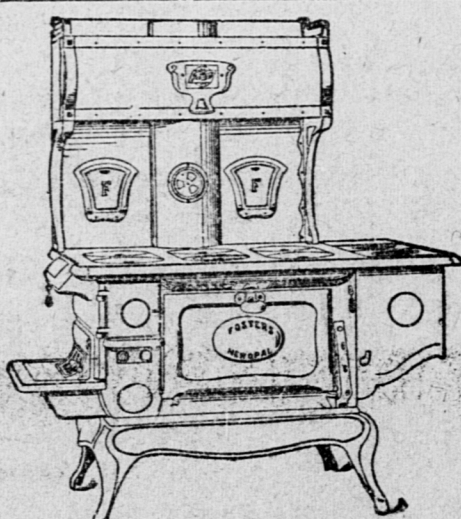

Sufficient allowances to cover necessary repairs and replacements.

One-third his house rent.

Some protection against crop failures, through charging to the acres harvested the cost of seed and seeding the acres that are on the average abandoned annually.

Secretary Mohler said: "A considerable cash balance in the wheat grower's hands at the end of the season does not necessarily mean a profit. The large gross returns from the crop and the fact that it left balances temporarily large in the accounts of many farmers should not be allowed to hide the loss sustained."

T. G. JULIAN DEAD

Mrs. Howell Prewitt received a telegram today announcing the sudden death at Clearwater, Fla., of her brother-in-law T. G. Julian, of Lexington and Clearwater. He had been suffering from complications for some time, but his death was not expected. OH, LET'S DON'T

People With Thin, Pale Blood Are Listless And Want To Do Little

More Red Blood Cells Needed

Take Pepto - Mangan, Famous Tonic, And Say "Let's Go," Instead of "Let's Don't"

When normally healthy, ambitious people begin to lack energy and tire easily—when they are quickly discouraged and low in vitality, it usually means their blood has grown weak.

Such people are called anemic, or "run-down." Build up the health and spirits. Pepto-Mangan is a pleasant tasting red blood builder and it contains exactly the elements which poor, pale blood needs to become rich, red blood.

Red blood means rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a clear brain, a firm step. Pepto-Mangan has placed thousands of people who needed building up in the full-blooded, energetic, vigorous class. It changes the "let's don't" attitude to a "let's go" attitude. Recommended by physicians for 30 years and sold all over the world.

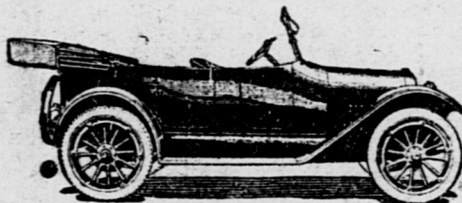

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

State Normal Pupils Get To See Circus

The students at the State Normal enjoyed a holiday Thursday, owing to it being officially recognized as circus day. The faculty received so many requests for permission to "see the circus," that it was decided to "knock off" studies, admitting all who desired, to attend the shows. "There are many students from various parts of the state who are seldom given the opportunity to see such things," said one of the faculty, "and it was decided that the day's recreation would be a treat for them."

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The effort on the part of every salesman to make his offering as an "unusual opportunity" makes us conservative in commenting on present financial conditions.

It is generally recognized, however, that war conditions have brought about unusual interest rates on securities of unquestioned safety.

For example, the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads have recently issued bonds yielding the investor seven per cent and other instances might readily be cited.

This firm, having been in business for forty-eight years, is in a position to offer its clients old line securities bearing an unusual interest rate. We honestly believe that the present time furnishes a real investment opportunity.

Correspondence of those interested in safe offerings and experienced advice is invited.

¶ The safety of all you have here in this world is due to the Churches. Upon these same Churches the value of all you will ultimately own likewise depends. Some regulator, some protector, isn't it? How much ought you invest in such an institution?

¶ Since they build and mold that which is best in our nation, our state, our town, and community and since they guide us every hour and build for manhood every moment, what should you invest?

¶ You have Time, Money, and Thought. How are you using them? You say Richmond should be what she ought to be; you say you want to help make her what she ought to be. Then we say come on. Every Church in Richmond invites you to its teaching service (Sunday School) on May 2nd. Your Church may not be what it ought to be, but with you it can be.
